HOW TO USE THIS PLANNER

Welcome! I'm a homeschooling mom of five. This planner was created to help manage our busy homeschool and daily routine. You may easily modify it to suit your family's needs using Microsoft Word.

We use the Charlotte Mason based Ambleside Online ( <http://amblesideonline.org> ) curriculum, so several of the pages are specific to the CM/AO style. For example, the Individual Schedules help the student know what schoolwork they need to complete each day. There is a 60-day checklist style (great for those who homeschool year round) and a weekly schedule for those who like to keep track by day. (If you are a member of the AO facebook page you can find links to my AO schedules by year).

The Family Groupwork sheet helps organize those subjects we do together and helps me remember what I am personally responsible for teaching each day.

I organize this planner by printing all the pages and inserting them into a large binder. The attendance page is in front and I simply circle the days we "do" school (however, it's often easier to just cross out the days we don't since we school year round). I keep the Ambleside family schedule right next to it so I know which subjects I am responsible for teaching each day. I print out and laminate our visual timeline schedule and keep in a clearly visible spot for my little ones.

The Student's Responsibility Chart helps them check off all the things they have finished so they can keep track of everything, schoolwork and otherwise, that they are responsible for each day.

The Activity Log is great for recording lessons in real life, such as visiting museums or historical sites, learning practical skills, participating in sports and music lessons.

Please feel free to modify this planner to suit your own needs as needed; however please do not re-post or market this as your own.

For more information about homeschooling and how I implement the Ambleside curriculum and Charlotte Mason style of learning, please visit <http://reallifehomeschooling.com>.

CUSTOMIZE YOUR PLANNER

This planner is free for personal use only. I do not profit in any way from this planner and you may not either. You may not repost or share this file in any public manner other than sending a link to my facebook page or blog. You may modify the pages to meet your personal needs. Sorry, but I am not able to help with personal modifications or customizations.

All elements are created using tables. One way to make modifying easier is to view the gridlines of the table. You can do this by hovering over the table (or highlighting it), clicking the + symbol in the upper left corner and selecting All Borders. This will show you the table borders which you can then adjust to meet your needs.

Once you are done modifying, you can click Outside Borders to remove only the outside lines.

I obtained all images in the virtual schedule from Microsoft Word clipart and <http://openclipart.org>, and they can easily be changed. Simply choose Insert > Clip Art and search for an image or copy and paste from the net.

Double click the image, choose Text Wrapping and select Square and move to the desired spot.

All clock images are from <http://etc.usf.edu/clipart/galleries/235-clocks>

All calendars are adapted from <http://timeanddate.com>
